How to finde the time of high water in most Coasts of England.

Know first, That in the fixth Golumne of the Kalendar you have given the age of the Moon to every day of the Moneth throughout the years. Now, for the day whereon it is defired to know the time of High water, get the Moon's Age, and therewith enter the Table in the following Page; for, in the Columne belonging to the Place where you delire the time of High water, and directly against the Age of the Moon stands the Time of High-water for the day proposed. One Example makes all easie.

Let (therefore) the First of Fanuary (this yeare) be the day, and Lordon the place, when and where I would know the Time of Full Sea. In the fixth Column of the Kelendar, I find the Moon that day to be 27. dayes old, whereto agrees in the second Column of the following Table ch. 36', wherefore I conclude the time of High-water to be that day at Landon, at 36 minutes after High noon. The like for any other.

So have I seen mongst the Calestial Train,
Bright Stars Arise, and quickly Set again:
Others (whose Circles greater Arches trace)
Though short in Lustre, run a longer Race:
Some wondrous swift, some slower then the rest,
Yet (one and all!) still tending to the West.
Impartial Death doth no Compassion take;
Cedars and Shrubs promisensus Ashes make.

in a state of the state of the of the Epocha, or Era, commonly uled by Chronologers and Historians, with a brief explanation thereof.

EPoche i derived from the Verbensigo, which fignifies to from, or flay; as if it were an inhibition, or Retention, whereby that which continually flitteth, is reftrained and fixed; that so from thence the Remaines may be measured.

For, whereas the Ca'estiall bodies are circumagitated by Mosions, and that Time is the measure of Mosion, they must necessarily require some beginning and determinate time, from whence to be numbered, as well in Pracedentia, as in Subsequentia.

As therefore (in the confideration of Caleficial Motions) there is a certain place of Heaven described, by a Line, from which those Motions are counted; so likewise (in Time) a known and famous beginning, whence the yeares, moneths and dayes, both before and after the same, re reckoned.

This Epocha is vulgarly called the Radix, whence that which remaineth is supputated, as from a foundation and Term à quo. It is also named the of ra, which word was originally (but ignorandy) taken from the Spaniards writings; afterwards, much used by Aftrologers, and at length translated to other writers. For, at the first, eErs, was not one word, but severall , which (being falfely and confusedly joyned) the Spaniards used but as one: and fo at length it was also received by the Latines. For, whereas the fole delation of the Empire, on Augustus Cafar, became of bappy consequence to the Spaniards, they therefore (in Honour of him) fo provided, that the great and noble actions of their Princes and People, should be reckoned from Augustu Cafar : For example, in this manner: Alla fuut hat Toleti, Galendi Martij. A.E.R.A. Caf.CCL. But, in process of time (the points being omitted, by the Negligence or Ignorance of the Registers and Publique No:aries) thole Letters were confuledly written, as one word (the firft fyllable whereof was the Dipthongue AE) and bad a declination affigned ir.

It is likewise by some called Hers, but very corrup ly ; for so the Spanish Distionary of Antonius Nebrissa, wherein it is made to fignise a Monarchy. Thus they interpret Hera Sasaris, for Monarchia Gazeris, Gasaris Monarchy. So Hera Mundi, Hera Christi, Hera ordinationis Juliana; and generally any other time computed from the Beginning or Rise of an Eminent and Illustrious Nation, Religion, or Sect, is called Hera.

Now, for almuch as the businesse and benefit of these Epoche or Ara, is, that the times past may thereunto be compared and applied, as to a term presized: I have here accommodated the Reader, with the most Illustrious Epoche observed at this day, when they commence, how they agree, and may be reduced to that of our Sevious (the most famous of all amongst Christians, in limiting and determining of their affaires) for that such as be rightly instructed in the principall Intervals of yeares, do best understand the differences of times, which are various, and reap far greater profit in the Histories they read.

A view of the more notable Epocha.

The Julian Period, albeit but feigned and invented by Scallger through a continued multiplication of the three Cycles of the Sun, Moon, and Roman Indiction, used in the Julian yeare, is registred among the most famous Epoche, as being the ochieutum by which we are safely carried through a Series of yeares.

This Period commenceth 4713 compleat yeares before the common Era of Christ, or in the 4714 inchoat before his Nas tivity.

Therefore the first of January this yeare 1657 (Old Ryle) he? gins the 6370 yeare of the Julian Period, the first whereof is Biffextile.

The Epocha, or Era of the World's Creation, falleth out in the 765 year of the Julian Period, which was Biffextile, 3949 compleat yeares before the Birth of Christ (juxta Historisan ver vitatem:)

Wherefore, the prefent yeare 1657, is the 5660 current years of the World's & Era; Sed hae tamen incerta, & juxta warias Gbrod nelogorum fententias immutata. Belides,

The Greek Church numbereth from the Creation to Christs Era 5508 compleat years, and begins it in the 5509 current from the antecedent Galends of Sepsember. Therefore, in this 1657 current years of the Christian Era, beginneth the 7165 current yeare of the World, according to the Gracian account.

The Latine Church (according to Eulebim) doth reckon from the Creation to Christ's Nativity, 5199 yeares, counting from the Julian-vernall Moneth of March. Therefore, the present yeare of Christ 1657, is the 6856 from the Creation, which must (as I said) be computed from March, for that (according to this account) the Moneths January and February belong to the yeare 6855.

The Jewes, Hebrews, and later Rabbins, do number from the Creation to the Nativity 3761 years, beginning their account from the first day of the Moneth Tifri, which then agreed to the seventh of Odob, in the Iulian years. Therefore, the present 1617 is the 3418 from the Creation, according to their account.

The Era of the Olympiads, or the first yeare of the first Olympiad; began in the Summer of the 3938 year of the Inlian Person, and the 3174 year of the Creation. Therefore the first year of the Christian Bra agrees to the 776 Olympiad current, or the 4 year of the 194 Olympiad, which began the Summer before. Therefore the Summer of the present year 1657 begins the first year of the 609 Olympiad.

This Boocha of the Olympiads, it so called from the plains of Olympia, night to the Temple of Jupiter Olympicus, in the Countrey of Elis, not far from the City Pisa, and the River Alphene, where the certamina ludiera, or the Olympick-Games were firm infituted by Hersules Asmenus, A.M., 2757, in honour of this Jupiter, Quibus bomines Elbnici (saith my author) ad immortalium Deorum cultum, to ad vires exercendas excitati sunt: the Judges therein being the Citizens of Elik. After Hersules his death these Games were discontinued for more then 400 years, and untill Prince Iphinus renewed them A.M. 3174, and caused them to be celebrated every fifth year.

The Epocha of Rome's Foundation, agrees with the 3961 year of the Julian Period, April 21. (being Paliliorum & Urbk Rome Nasale Festum) with the 3197 year from the Creation, the 3 years of the 6 Olympiad, and the 753 current years before Christ.

Therefore, the present year 1657 April 21 (Old-Ryle) be gins the 2410 year from the Foundation of Rome.

The Epocha of Nabonnaffer (the most ancient and famous of all other Astronomicall Epocha) took beginning with the death of that King, in the 3967 year of the Julian Period, the 3203 of the World, the first of the 8 Olympiad, the 6 of the City, and the 747 before Christ.

Therefore the prefent year 1657 July , (New-Ryle) but June 25 (Old-flyle) begins the 2406 current year of Nabonnaffer.

This Nabonnesser is not the same, whom the Arabians, Heabrews, and some late Mathematicians, ('mongst which Andreas Argolm is one) following Alphonsm, do meerly, (I suppose,) for the similitude of the names, call Naboshodonofor, or Nebushadnez.

ger King of Babilon. For by examining the intervall of the 422 Egyptian yeares between the Empire of Nabonnaffer and Alexan. der's death, with fome famous actions during that time among & the lewes and other Nations, according to the Sacred and Prophane Histories; we shall find, that Nebochedonofor was 140 years after Nabounaffar Belides, Functius, Bucholcerus, Binsingus, Codmannus, and others, especially Reinboldus, (Tab. Prut.) bilioved him to be the same with Salmanaflar King of the Affyrians. Bur Scaliger, Galvifus, Christmannus, and Origanus conclude him for either that King of Babilon, which (2 Reg. 20. 12,) is called Baladan, the Father of Berodach (or Mardochempadi, as Prolony calleth bim) or elfe that King which Scaliger, by this name, calleththe fi ft in the Dynastie of the Babylonians, which revolved from Arties, (King of the Meder,) and erected a news Kingdome, wherein be reckoneth twenty Kings, untill Gyrus King of the Perhans.

The Radix or Epocha of Alexander the Great (which the Arabians call & Fra Philippi) began the 4390 year of the Julian Period, the 3646 of the Creation, Nov. 12. the 425 of Nabonnaffar, and the 324 current before Christ. This Epocha was used by Hipparchus, Prol. Theon Alexandrians (in Conomibus 1292 16915) and Albategnius. The present year 1657, July 13, (Old Hyle) the 23 (New-Ryle) begins the 1982 year from the death of Alexander.

The present year 1657 is the 1968 current years of this Bra, but from Office ber begins the 1969.

This Epocha is reckoned from Seleucus Nicanor (a most potent Monasch) who ruled with great fortitude in Syria, Chaldes, and other bordering Regions. as far as the River Indus. It is termed Alexandrean, not that it commences either from the Empire of Exit of Alexander, (for his Death precedes it above twelve yeares) but because that after the death of Alexander, the Eastern Empire became Bipartite, or divided into Asia and Syria: whence this Epocha is also called Dhiltarnain, i.e. Two horned, from the Two Hornes, or Two Empires, which sprang from the one Eastern Alexandrean Empire. In 1 Mathab. I. 11. it is called the Era (or beginning) of the Kingdome of the Greeks. It is also chilled Ara Contradiums

When Dioclefan the Emperour had gained a great name of Prudence, and therewith to delighted and flattered himself, that needs he must be worshipped as a God: he commanded all the Subjects of his Empire to observe the beginning of his reigne, and from thence to reckon their years; whereby it came to passe, that from the 184 years of Christ (in which became to the Empire) this Eracalled (from his name) Dioclefan, took its beginning. It is called [The Bra of Marryrs] because of the exceeding great Tyranny which he exceeded in the time of his God vernment against the Christians: [The Bra of the Cohpti Marryrs] from the Countrey and City (so called) near to the River Nilus, wherein were cruelly destroyed a multitude of Christians, by sundry exquisite and unbeard-of torments.

True it is, that this grievous persequation fell out in the 19 years of his reigne; Neverthelesse, the Cohpri, in the Notations of their years, do account the beginning of the Persequation from the first of Dioclesse's reigne. So that the Dioclesse

The Perfian Era is two-fold, Jefdagirdisk, and Gelalaan.

The feldagirdik, or the years from the death of feldagirde, began the 632 current year of our Saviour, Iung 16. The present 2617. begins the 1926 of that Era.

This lefdagird was the lak King of the Perhans, whom Otherman the Sarazen Emperour overthrew, and at once deprived both of Life and Kingdome.

The Sultan or Gelalaan Era, began the 1079 current year of our Redcemer, March 14, in the 448 of the Iefdagird, on the 18 day of the moneth Pharauardim or Phrardim. The present year 1677 begins the 179 of this Bra.

This Sulean Gelal (so called by the Perfians) was Emperour of Chorsfan and Mefopetamis, who by the help of 8 Perhan Mathemaricians, then corrected the Kalendar of that Nation. For having observed that the year (equally numbred from the Bra of Lesdagird, after the manner of the Egyptians) was leffer then requifite, as not exactly folar; and that the Moneths by degrees did run backward: That the Iulian year agreed not to the Sun's motion, but was greater then it should be, & by little & little (yet with a flower Progreffe then in the Egyptian year) c ept forward: they invented a peculiar quantity of the year somewhat leffer then the Iulian, and a little greater then the Gregorian, but by much exceeding the Egyptian. This year thus invented, and fixed as aforelaid, they named Senathi Gelali, that is to lay, Amum Majeffark, the Majefticall year, either for the fingular worth of Promulgator, or the dignity and eminency of the year it felf; They likewise called it Neuruz Ellutrani, i.e. the Equinochial year of the Emperour, because it commenced at the pernel Equinox. The Epochs of the New-Roman Account (for Sefer's was also Roman) began in the time of Pope Gregory 13. Anno (briffit 1582, when Christopherm (lavim, the two Italian Brothers [Antonius and Alophus Lilims] with some other Mathematicians, corrected the Julian Galendar, which was (and Rill is) called therefore Gregorian, Ponsificial, Glavian, or Lilian. The present year 1657 is the 75 of this Era, which takes beginning the present years 1656, Odober 5. of the Julian year, hereby made

This Correction was thus. They Substracted to dayes (from the 4. of Ollob, unto the 15. of the fame moneth exclusively) in the years 1582; that thereby they might make the Vernall Equinox (on which the Moveable Feafts depend) agree to the 21 of March, asit was by the Nicene Council eftablifhed, Anno 324. And (to retain the same for future times invariably upon the same day) they appointed, that of 400 years, in the fire, second, and shird bundred years, the Leap-day (which in the Julian yeare happeneth) should be omitted, and not intercalated, but in the 400 year, that the Leap-day should not be omitted, but intercalated : For example, Over and besides the 10 dayes, subftracted as aforefaid, in the year 1700, by emitting the Leapday, the Gregorian yeare shall be II dayes shorter than our Julian yeare, and so in the yeare 1800 it shall be be 12 dayes fhorter ; and laftly, in Anno 1900, it fhall be 13 dayes fhorter $ but in the yeare 2000, by keeping and inverculating the Leapday, it hall fill be but 13 dayes fhorter, and fo forward. How to reduce the yeares drawn from other Epocha, to that of our Saviour Jefus Chrift.

Learn firk by the Table, pag. 6. of this Book, what yeare before or after Chrift, any other of the more notable Epochæ takes beginning: it being a task very easy (where the fixed solar yeares confilling of 365 dayes, 6 hours fere, are used) to reduce them to the Series of yeares respecting the Birth of our Saviour. For, if they be drawn from an Era before that of Chrift, let the number of yeares, by which such Epocha is described to happen before Chrift, be lubftracted from the yeares of the Epocha given, and the remainer shewes what yeare of our Lord agreeth chereunio.

But when the given yeares of the Epocha proposed are leffe then the Intervall of yeares, by which it preceeds Chrifts Era, and fo fubitraction cannot be made, as before; let the given reares of the Epocha be fubitracted from the Intervall, and the residue will declare the current yeares thereof before Chrift.

Moreover, if the given yeares be deduced from an Bra succeeding that of Chrift, then adde the intervall of this Epocha from the Radix of Chrift to the yeares propoled, and the Aggregate gives the number of years from the Birth of our Saviour, ag ee-able to the given yeares of the Epocha proposed.

For Example.

I defire to know, in what yeare of Christ the Arabian Bra commenceth, which Arzachel the Afronomer referreth to the 932 year of Dbilkarnain ?

Now, because the Era of Dbilkarnain beginneth Anno 311, ante Chriffum, I fubitract 311 yeares trom 933, and the remainer 622 fhewes the current yeare after Chrift, in which the Arabian Eracommencerb.

Again, I would know how many yeares the 452 of the City is before Chift ?

Mere (bec ule the Era of the City falls out 753 years before Chrift, which cannor be substracted from the proposed yeare, being greater then ic) I deduct 452 from 753, and the remaiper jos, is the number of yeares that the 452 of the City precedes our Savious Bra.

Laftly, I demand what year of Christ corresponds to the 1373 year of Dioch fan à The

The Dioclesian Era (as already I have told you) began Amb Christi 284. Now by adding 284 (the Interval) of this Era from Christ) to 1373 (the year proposed). I finde that the aggregate 1617 is the number of yeares from the birth of our Sayiour, agreeable to the 1373 yeare of Dioclesian.

How to reduce the Tetraeterides of the Olympiads.

Viour: First, substract in Unite from the number of Olympiads given, and then multiply the remainer by 4.

To the Product, adde the current year of the Teracterid propiad.

Now, if this summe exceed 776 (for so many yeares their Radix preceded that of Christs) deduct 776 from thence, and the residue shewes the current year of Christ: But if it be lesse, substract the same from 776, and what remaines gives you the year before Christ.

For Example.

I would know, what year of Christ agrees to the first year of the 609 Olympiad ?

First, I subfract I from 609, and there ress 60%. Then I multiply 604 by 4, and the product is 2432, unto which I adde $ (for the first year of the current Terracterid) and the summe is 2433.

Laftly, I substract 776 from 2433, and the remainer 1657 (being the present year of Christ) agreeth to the proposed first yeare of the 609 O ympiad.

Once more; I would know what year of our Saviour corres

(according to Zenophon) is faid to have been eclipfed.

First, lubstract 1 from 93, and (the remainer) 92 being multiplied by 4, produceth 368 years. To which I adde 3, the current years of the given Tetratterid, and they make 371. Which being dedncted from (because they are less then) 776, there remainests 405, which is the year of Christ, agreeable to the proposed 3 year of the 93 O ympiad.

The to convert the wandering and uncertain years of the Egyptians, from Nabonnassar, into the years of Christ.

To change the Egyptian account, inchoated from Nabonnajfer, into the decurrent yeares of Christ, is the design of the following Table.

A Table, for converting the Egyptian yeares from Nabonnaffar, into Julian.

Anni Nab.		Pri.Toth.	Anni Nab	Ann. poli Christ.	Prim. Toth

The use of which Table is thui !

Seek in it the number of years from Mabouneffer, which you defire to turn into Iulian : or (when you find them not precifely) the next greater.

From which number so tound, deduct the proposed years, and the remainer added to (if the time proposed be before Christ) or, if after, substracted from the year of Christ, (which stands on the right hand the Table over against the number of Egyptian years) leaves the year to be reckoned before or after Christ, as the Title directeth.

This done, take (in the same part of the Table) the day of the Iulian year agreeable to the first of the month Toth, and then divide the remainer of years (after the first substraction) by 4. For, if the Quotus (which must ever be augmented by 1, when ought remaineth after Division, otherwise not at all) be added to that day of the Iulian year, you have the Seat of the first Bgy-ptian moneth Toth, in the Iulian Calendar. And (the head of the year being found) 'tis quickly seen how the dayes of the Egyptian moneths agree.

For, take but (in the Canon of the Egyptian Moneths) the elapsed dayes from the head of the year, to the day proposed, and adde the same to the day of the moneth in the Iulian year (unto which you have found that the first of Toth agreeth) and you have the day of the moneth in the Iulian year, according to the Egyptian propoled.

But if the years proposed be from Alexander, and following the Egyptian Ordination; then (because there are just 424 years betwire the Era of this King, and that of Nabonna sar) adde but 424 years to the given years from Alexander, and with the summe, as you did with that of the years from Nabonna sar, find out the corresponding day of the Iulian year; for it will be the same, with that which would be found with the years from Alexander.

Laftly, the day of the Iulian year thus gotten, you cannot be ignorant of the Gregorian; for, by adding but to the Iulian, the difference of dayes betwire them for the Century proposed, (which is presented to your view in the 13 Page of this Book) you have the day in the Gregorian.

For Example.

Them (in his Commentaries upon the fix Book of Ptolomy's Syntax) maketh mention of a Bolar Eclipse observed by him at Alexandria, in the III2 years of Nahomassar, the 22 day of the Moneth Payni. I defire to know what day of the Julian years agrees thereunto?

The next greater number of years from Nabonnaßer (for I finde not the proposed exactly) are, by the Table before-going, $204, and the yeares of Christ answerable, on the right hand 456 after Chrift, together with May I.

Therefore, I fubfract triz from 1204, and there remaineth leaveth 364 for the current years after our Saviour.

This done, I divide the first Remainer 92 by 4, and the Quotient is 23, and nothing remaining; which added to May I, gives May 24, for the day unto which the first of Toth an greeth.

Now, seeing that from the Series of the Egyptian Moneths, 270 dayes are compleatly elapsed with the Moneth Pathon, and that the proposed day is the 22 current of the following Psyni, together making 292; I adde 292 to May 24, (unto which the first of Toth answereth) and it produceth March 13. Therefore, the yeare of Christ 365, March 13. Post Christum in the Julian year agreeth to the proposed time from Nabonnossar.

First, by [the Table of dayes in the Iulian years] resolve the Intervall of this Epocha, from that of Christ, into complete daves.

Next, The time proposed in the Turkish account, into dayes, by [the Table of dayes in the Turkish yeares:] For they being all collected into one summe, the same will give you the number of dayes, wherewith by [the Table of dayes in the Iulian years] you may find out the moneth and day designed from Christ,

as followerh:

Seek out in [the Table of dayes in the Iulian yeares] the number of dayes (if you finde not the same exactly) next leffer when the summe of dayes before found, and take the opposite yeares on the left hand. Then from the summe of dayes first collected, substract this next lefter number, and with the remainer (if leffe then 365,) find out in [the Table of dayes in the Iulian Moneths] the moneth and day of the Iulian year; and so you will have the year, moneth, and day, from Christ, centered to the Proposed from Hegira.

But, if the remainer exceed 365 dayes, you must therewith re-enter the Table, and thence take the next lester number of dayes (as you did before) together with the opposite yeares on the lest hand; which adde to the former, so continue your

To the FRIENDLY READERS.

Gentlemen,

Ere followeth a compendious Chronologic for 56 yeares last past: which (till the beginning of our late plus quam civilia Bella) I have faithfully extracted, either from the private Adversaria of some very curious Observers, or the publick Writings of others, exceedingly eminent for their performances. The rest, from the Store of my own Collections, wherein yet, I had either my own Eyes, or the joynt consent of both Parties, to warrant their Entrie.

The Impulsive to which, was no other, then have all provident Husband-men, who in planting such Trees and Fruits, as they cannot but know (by the stender stock of their nature) they shall never live to taste of, do neverthelesse reckon it Guerdon sufficient, but to think that thereby the possible they may gratific Posterity, and perhaps, therefore, have grafted on their Memories, the venerable name of Good-common-wealth's men.

For, the very All I hereby intend, is onely, an infallible, an impartiall conveyance to Posterity of the following Transactions, in their due Series of Time. By the Sanguine part Whereof, I would not be thought Dolores renovare, to fet our Wounds frost a bleeding, but Triftium Breviarium dulce exhibere, to present you with a Sweet Summary of Britaine's bitter Calamities.

That there is a kinde of volupiuou/nesse in the rehearsall of past-Miseries, a Pleasure even in Miserie is felf, my own Experience bath taught me.

For, although (I know) it cannot but affect any bonest mans Heart, to reflect on the exquisite Cruelties, unheardof Rapine and Blood-fhed Common to Us, All, of thefe macerated Nations, in fo narrow a Perio i of yeares: yet contenteth it not a little, to recollect, view, and review, as in a Mirrour, with what Providence those Judgements befell we, by what Instruments and Artifice perpetrated, with what Plots and Impieties afted : How the Sea of our Misfortunes Ebbed and Flowed with the various Shapes of Alternate Successes : How Impetu. om the Storm, how menacing, bow dangerous the Waves: How unequall the Temper of best composed Spirits : How inordinate the Pulse in soundest Conflitutions: Lastly : What, and how wonderfull the Viciffitudes and Changes thence emergent. And if so, then certainly from this Bulk of Mileries, may be sucked some Honey as well as Poylon.

Besides, (if Chronologie be the Eye of History) I doubt not, but that hereafter, when by the Mosse of Time; our Scartes are overgrown, this despicable Brat may (Digito Monstrare) point at the Hands as well as Times that gave them.

*Tis true, a Micro-Chronicon bath attended my Kalendar severall years together: but the na row rome therein allotted, so confin'd me, that when sever any New matter came to be added: more or lesse of the Old must

To the Friendly Readers.

needs be omitted; it could not be otherwise: Insomuch, that unlesse all my former Chronical notes were still in readinesse, you should one time or other be to seek, for

What you defired moft to be informed in.

To prevent which, was the present Collection of them all, into this one portable volume; wherein you have alforthis advantage (for I presume still, it will Prodesse, well as delectore) That whereas the Ara of all my former computations, commonly, preceded not the Commencement of the Long-Parliament; this agrees with the year 1600. Soon after which the Two Crowns were united under the name of Great Britain, the lamentable Scene in this Tragedy, as the late King CHARLES, the First that Enters.

To conclude, I declare it, That (as there are, and will be Miltakes and Defects in the best of Humane actions, especially in works of this nature, so) none shall more oblige me, than such, who can and will freely, by Materiall Additions, but assist me in the least; or give civil notice of any thing, that either for want of better Intelligence, or through my own, or the Printers Inadvertency, bath escaped Erronious.

Whose duller Brest, I wish, no lesse Forbere;
And Noked, twelve moneths after they are Born.
Another, his Musdungse (with me) lights,
All, save three Rages, where he wisely Writes
When's Mare took Horse; his Comes th' Impatient Bull;
O, when Himselse, some soule Lascivious Trull.
Yet this, forbids no Entrys; only I Would not be Pander, to such Drudgerie.
Nor doe I grudge the Hungry Flames a whit;
For, they consume not, they Reside my Wis.
Others behind them (in Foole's Ordure) throw
My injur'd Lesses a They'l after the Bible so.

But O th' Exchange! there, I indure the Rack,
Such Din is made, with Wharton's Almanack!
I cann't but Bluft, for shame, when I doe meet
My Name (like Small Gole) Cry'd in ev'ry Street.
Howbe't, I thereon set the Bolder face,
Because, like Fortune have, ev'n Ass of Giace.
And yet, some Trifling shops Provoke me most,
For, here and there, they Name to a Post:
O Cruell Hards! But that my Pasience bear's,
It well Presaging, what attends their Em's:
Thus Pleased, or Displeased I appeare, Servans or Slave, t'all Interests, once a yeare:

So let me paffe: and when this fourney's over, I'le trie, if better Luck I can Diffever.

Ake notice that those famous Lezenges or Pectorals, so generally known and approved so, the cure of Consumptions, Coughs, Asibmeer, and all Diseases incident to the Lungs, are made by, and to be had onely of Mr. Edmond Buckworth, at his House in Katherine's Court near the Tower. This is published to prevent the designs of divers pretenders, who counterfeit the same about the City of Lendon, to the prejudice and disparagement of the said Gentleman, and the abuse of the people. For more convenience to those that live remove in the City, quantities of them sealed up with his Coat of armes, are lest constantly with Mr. Richard Loundes a Book-seller, at the White Lion in S. Paul's Charch yard, neer the little North-door.
